VICE-CHANCELLOR'S OBSERVATIONS ON THE ANNUAL REPORT FOR THE YEAR 1966-67

1. I am making a few observations arising out of the Report of the University for the academic year 1966-67. This happens to be the third occasion (and the last of my current term of Office) when I am placing such observations before the Annual meeting of the Senate.

2. The Reports of the Deans of Faculties and the Registrar's Report contain salient features of the progress made by the University in various directions. Among the important academic changes that have taken place during the year are :

(1) Institution of the Faculty of Ayurveda;

(2) Introduction of Hindi as an optional medium of instruction and examination upto B Sc. standard in the Faculty of Science also.

(3) Re-introduction of University examination at the end of the Second Year T.D.C. also in the Faculties of Arts, Science & Commerce.

(4) Institution of Diploma Course in Adult Education in the Faculty of Arts; it may be noted that this is the first course of its kind in any of the Universities in India;

(5) Institution of Diploma Courses in Legislative Drafting, and Taxation Laws and Practice in the Faculty of Law; and

(6) Reorganisation of the LL.B. Course so as to extend over a period of three years.

3. The University has continued to undertake in its various Departments research projects approved by the Council of Scientific and Industrial Research, the Atomic Energy Commission, the National Council of Educational Research and Training, the Research Programmes Committee of the Union Planning Commission, and the Union and State Governments. A special mention may be made of the Study Groups set up in the Departments of Physics and Mathematics to study and improve the teaching of these subjects at the School level. It is highly desirable on the part of University teachers to take interest in the improvement of curricula and methods of teaching at School level also.

4. The following Summer Schools were organised in the University with financial assistance from the University Grants Commission :–

(1) School in Survey Research Techniques organised by the University Department of Statistics in November 1966.

(2) Summer School in Western Philosophy organised by the Department of Philosophy in April 1967.

(3) Summer Institute in Mathematics for School Teachers organised by University Department of Mathematics in May-June 1967.

(4) Summer Institute in Mathematics for College Teachers organised by the University Department of Mathematics in May-June 1967.

(5) Summer Institute in Chemistry for College Teachers organised by the University Department of Chemistry in May-June 1967.

(6) Summer Institute in Biology for College teachers orgonised by the University Department of Zoology in May-June 1967.

(7) Summer Institute in Biology for School Teachers organised by the Regional College of Education, Ajmer, in May-June 1967.

(8) Summer Institute in Physics for School teachers organised by the Regional College of Education, Ajmer, in May-June 1967.

5. The University organised the following Seminars also :—

(1) Seminar on the Report of the Education Commission in October 1966; Dr. D. S.

Teachers and Students be appointed in each University College under the Chairmanship of the Director. This Committee should look into the felt needs and difficulties of the students and suggest measures to meet the same.

12. The 'language problem' has attracted a great deal of attention of our youth and of governmental and educational authorities in recent months. It is generally accepted on educational grounds that higher studies too should be imparted through the medium of Regional languages. At the same time it has to be kept in view that the students should know the language through which they should be able to acquire the current flow of knowledge in the world. Also there should be an appropriate relationship between the languages which they study at the University stage and the language or languages which are necessary to provide them entry into public services and other avenues of good employment.

13. The country today faces some very crucial politico-economic challenges. It is the responsibility of the University community to study these problems from various angles and offer to the country impartial guidelines based on scientific study and past experiences in these fields in India and abroad. The University community will be in a position to discharge this responsibility in an adequate fashion if it has adequate library and research facilities and proper liaison with Government, industry, and the people.

14. Higher education at a satisfactory level of efficiency needs considerable investment. The Union and State Governments and the University Grants Commission have been able to provide certain resources to us for our maintenance and development. However, much remains to be done. Rajasthan has been an educationally backward State. Relatively more investment, specially for providing real educational in-puts per pupil, is needed to bring this State at least on par with other developed States in the country. Unfortunately this has not yet been possible. In fact, as no agreed principles for provision of Maintenance Grant to this University have been evolved, the University finds itself in a very difficult position to discharge its due responsibility. The Education Commission has made some recommendations regarding maintenance grants. Also, the University Grants Commission is in a position to advise the State Governments in this matter. The President of India has now appointed the Fifth Finance Commission which would again review the grants that should flow from the Centre to the State Governments for meeting the committed expenditure. It is, therefore, very necessary that the Government of Rajasthan finalises the principles and quantum of maintenance grant to this University.

15 On account of the difficult economic situation which the country has faced during the past two years our development programmes have also been partly held up. The Visiting Committee of the University Grants Commission came to our University in March 1967 and their Report was made available to us in the latter half of 1967. We have been asked to restrict our expenditure within 70% of the ceilings fixed by the U.G.C. While the State Government has intimated to us that we could go ahead with the developmental programmes in accordance with our priorities, they have further cut down their-development grant from Rs. 4 lakhs to Rs. 3 lakhs for the year 1968-69. This naturally limits our development activity though in an educationally under-developed State like Rajasthan our tempo of activity should have been much more.

16. Our University has now completed twenty years of its existence. We are celebrating this happy occasion by organising a series of twenty special Lectures and Seminars. We are grateful to various distinguished persons who have responded to our invitations. It is expected that this series will create increased interest on the part of the community in various important national problems and recognise the role of the University in dealing with the same. The Universities exist to serve and mould the society. They also expect the society to provide them the necessary finance and other facilities so that they may be able to discharge their responsibilities in an adequate fashion.

10. N.C.C. Training.

General Report.

1. The compulsory N.C.C. scheme introduced by University ordinances is now settling down in the State. With the availability of instructional staff in larger numbers and of better quality, the standard of training during the year improved appreciably. A greater emphasis was laid on the presence of officers on parades and this practice has had its beneficial effects. Lack of technical training equipment continued to cause hindrance in making training more varied and interesting.

2. The Junior Division troops showed a great deal of enthusiasm in N.C.C. training.

Number of parades held by various units during the period under review and the percentage of attendance.

3. With the exception of a very few cadets, all others could put in the minimum percentage of attendance on parades as laid down in University Ordinances. This was possible due to the close liason maintained by the Unit Commanders with the heads of educational institutions and by sending lists of defaulters to them regularly. Some institutions showed over 90% attendance in parades.

Action taken in respect of irregular attendance.

4. Extra parades for defaulters were held in the succeeding months and were not allowed to mount up.

for the close of the training season. The defaulting cadets were given a chance to make up the attendance even after the training season closed. Some cadets failed to utilise even this opportunity and it was found that most of them would not have put in the minimum attendance in the academic classes also.

Results of certificate examination.

5. A summary of the results is given below :—

Type of certificate examination	Number appeared	Number passed
Certificate 'C' or equivalent	680	327
Certificate 'B' or equivalant	3573	2261
Certificate A-I or equivalent	10295	7685

Steps taken on paragraph 6 above

7. All the units/troops mentioned in para 6 above started functioning.

Extent to which training syllabus was carried out

8. With the exception of gliding and powered flying in Air Wing Squadrons (Flying), the training syllabus was by and large, covered.

Factors hindering progress of training (State briefly to what extent the State assistance can be used to overcome the difficulties affecting the training).

9. At present NCC training does not form part of the college routine. Efforts are being made to persuade the principals of colleges to include NCC training in the college routine so that no parades are held on Sundays and Holidays. The inclusion of NCC training in the college time-table will improve the attendance on parades considerably.

10. In the case of camps, while efforts are being made, it is doubtful if the college Principals will agree to close the colleges on a staggered basis so that the NCC camps could be held accordingly. This will enable the pooling of resources in men and material to run the camps in a more effecient manner.

11. With the increase in messing allo nce to Rs. 2.75 per cadet, the quality of food t cadets in camps improved considerably. There was, however, a case for an increase in the incidental charges also.

General report on camps held during the period under review.

12. A total of 74 camps were held during the period under review. The number of NCC officers and cadets participated in these camps was as under :—

	Officers	Cadets
(a) Senior Division
(i) Army Wing	202	22,367
(ii) Naval Wing	6	345
(iii) Air Wing	6	585
(b) Junior Division

(ii) Naval Wing	31	1007
(iii) Air Wing	43	1095
(c) Girls Division
Senior Wing	15	1297
Junior Wing	48	2169

13. With a very few exceptions, all cadets attended the number of camps they were required to attend according to University Ordinances. Arrangements are in hand to hold camps for defaulters during the summer vacations. Except perhaps for odd cases, no student in in the State will be debarred from appearing in the examination due to non-attendance in camps

14. The administration in camps was good. Some allegations of mal-administration in camps were made but it was found on enquiry that they were altogether baseless. It was desirable to hold camps under canvas, but was not possible in all cases as the pooled tentage given to the Directorate was insufficient to meet the commitment.

15. The location and dates of some camps had to be changed as the educational authorities were forced—to shorten or change the dates of "Break" to make up for time in studies lost due to students disturbances.

16. Training in camps helped to inculcate team spirit, enthusiasm for out-door life and qualities of leadership to a great extent.

Number of officers sent for pre-commission and refresher courses.

Shooting ranges

19. A total of 2 long and 50 short ranges had been allotted to the Directorate. Out of these 2 long and 44 short ranges had already been constructed in different institutions with the assistance of University Grants Commission. Construction of the remaining 6 short ranges will be started on receipt of funds.

Shooting Competitions

20. 3 out of 4 all India shooting competitions were won by the NCC cadets of the State during the year 1966-67.

Republic Day Contingent Camp

21. A contingent of 132 cadets from the Directorate participated in the Republic Day Parade held at DELHI on 26 January 67. It included 40 Band Girls Cadets from Birla Balika Vidyapeeth PILANI. The contingent was adjudged as the second best in the Inter Directorate competition. Eleven cadets from the State were awarded silver medals for individual merit.

Discipline

22. N.C.C. Officers : Generally good. Two NCC officers were recommended for posting out of their present institutions for bad behaviour.

23. N C.C. Cadets : As elsewhere in the country, there were students disturbances in this State also. NCC cadets, in uniform, did not take part in these disturbances any where in the State.

24. No cadets were discharged from the NCC for indiscipline or for irregular attendance.

Advisory Committee :

26. A meeting of the State Advisory Committee which was scheduled to be held in JAIPUR in March 67, could not be held due to political situation in the State.

Administrative Difficulties including Finance :

27. Accommodation for N. C. C. units was not combined at all stations. Efforts were made to hire better accommodation.

28. All unit accounts were audited. Out of 7 camps held during the year 1966-67. 67 camp accoun were audited during the period under review. Most the audit objections raised on camp and unit accoun were settled.

29. There were no difficulties in drawing advanc for camps and sending officer cadets/officers for pr commission and refresher courses.

30. The civilian staff sanctioned by the State Gov for units raised during the last two years was less than th authorised establishment laid down by the Central Gov
The cut was accepted voluntarily by the Directorate i the interest of economy. As the units assumed the full status some difficulties were experienced in th respect. They were pointed out to the State Govt. an it was hoped that at least some of them would b removed in the near future.

31. The State Govt. civilians are not entitled t any TA/DA when they are deputed for camp duty with in five miles of their Headquarters. This has given ris to a legitimate complaint from them. Appropriat proposals to remove the complaint were made to th
State Govt. and it was hoped that this difficulty woul
also be resolved in the near future.

11. BUILDINGS

A. Campus :

1. Library : The work of extension to the existin Library was in progress. Previously the work was give on labour contract but due to some technical difficultie further work was stopped. Now masonry work ha been allotted to new contractor for complet labour as well as materials. Due to this change the progress of the work was almost at stand still.

2. Compound wall : The Northern compound wall of the campus has been constructed at a cost of Rs. 18,000/- but still some length has been left out unconstructed due the non-finalization of alignment of road by Improvement Trust for direct linking of Jawahar Lal Nehru Road with Tilak Nagar.

12. UNIVERSITY LIBRARY

During the year 1966-67, the Library made significant progress in all its activities. The most important activity of the national level was the organisation of a seminar of University Librarians, which was first of its kind in the country.

Another important activity of the year which has put the Library both on national and international and international academic scene was the bringing out of a publication known as "Index India". This quarterly attempts to provide a fixly comprehensive and systematically arranged index to such articles, editorials, notes and letters to the editor, as found, as significant enough to be recorded from about 400 important periodicals and journals in English language from all over the world.

Finance

During the year under review, there has been an increase not only in the total grant for the purchase of books and journals, but also an increase in the total budget of the Central Library. Against The total budget of Rs. 3,51,130/- in the year, 1966-67 a provision of a total sum of Rs. 4,17,000/- was made for the year 67–68, thus registering an increase of Rs. 65,870/-. As regards grants for purchase of books, the University provided a sum of Rs. 2,20,000/- during current year against a sum of Rs. 1,79,000/- in 1966-67 out of the University's own funds.

Apart from this, the University received a basic grant of Rupees 2 lacs from the University Grants Commission for the purchase of books on various subjects for the fourth Five-Year-Plan period. No 'adhoc' grant for the purchase of books for specific subjects was received during the period under review.

Apparently, the book grants show an increase as compared to those of the last year, but the impact of the devaluation of the rupee has created a crisis in the acquision programme of the University Library. Not only have the prices of the books been increased but even the subscription rates of the pesiodicals have risen by about 16% of previous year's cost. The adverse effects of the devaluation can be remedied only when the University makes provision for sufficient extra funds to cover the shortages.

Book collection, acquisitions, gift and exchange

The Library accessioned and shelved a total of 11013 items out of which 1353 were bound valumes of periodicals during the year under review. The total collection as on 30th June 67, stood at 1,32,374. As regards gifts, a special mention may be made of the Asia Foundation, New Delhi, from which a gift of 500 volumes was received. The British Coudcil also donated about 40 books to the University Library. Books were also received as gifts from other sources.

Micro-films

The total number of Micro films as it stood on 30th June '67 was 33.

Theses

271 theses were received from the University office bringing total collection to 3941 items at the end of 66-67.

Periodicals

In order to help the teaching and research work at a desirable level the Library's acquisition of periodicals increased slightly in all the subjects, of course, within its slender resources.

The total number of journals subscribed and received as complimentary now stands, at about 1300.

Library facilities and service

As usual, the Library remained open from 8 A.M. to 8 P.M. throughout the year except on 5 holidays as provided in the University Library rules. On Sundays and other University holidays, the Library remained open from 11 A.M. to 5 P.M. During the summer vacations, the Library was kept open from 7. A.M. to 5 P.M. in response to the requests made by various readers.

Enrolment

The total number of members enrolled under different categories during the year was as follows :—

1.	Students	1240
2.	Teachers	480
3.	Research scholars	112
4.	Special members	248
	Total	2080

Inter Library Loan

Issue

82,009 books on different subjects were issued to the members of the Library for home reading against 81,517 last year. In addition, 95,218 books were consulted in the Text Book Section against 91,127 last year.

Library Committee

The Library Committee met once during the year on 20th February '67. The following important changes were made by the Committee in Library Rules :—

1. Students of the University Law College who had already deposited Rs. 25/- in the college were allowed to borrow one book from the Central Library without any further

2. Casual Students of the University were also allowed to borrow books from the University Library like other University students.

3. Facilities of membership to the post-graduate students who wished to improve their divisions were also provided.

4. Permanent Librarians of the affiliated colleges of the University were also allowed to be enrolled as members of the University Library without any library deposit or library fee.

5. As regards the use of University theses, it was decided that theses be issued to a reader only when he signs a declaration that he would duly acknowledge in his own work any material taken out of the thesis consulted.

Library Building

During the current year, no substantial progress was made in the extension programme of the University Library Building due to several unavoidable circumstances. However, the new basement has been made available to the Library. It is hoped that the extension work of the Library Building will now be taken up in all seriousness.

7. Special features :—The most important activity of the Department during the year under report has been that of organisation of All India School in Survey Research Techniques under the auspices of the University Grants Commission from 17th Oct , 66 to 10 Nov., 1966. The Director of the School was Dr. B. D. Tikkiwal, Professor and Head of the Department.

The Survey methods are being adopted throughout the country to collect technological, sociological and economic data for development purposes and also for research purposes in different disciplines. It is often found that persons connected with survey work do not have necessary background to conduct the same efficiently. The survey operations require a fairly good acquaintance with (1) different statistical techniques (2) various sample designs (3) technique of questionnaire framing (4) problems arising at the time of collection of data on the field, and (5) analysis of data in an efficient manner. The object of the School was to acquaint the perticipants in the School with different aspects of the surveys.

To meet this objective about 120 lectures by eminent scholars in the field were arranged in about four weeks time. In all 38 participants from twenty one different institutions in the country attended the School.

The following is the break-down of the number of participants coming from different disciplines :—

Commerece	3
Economics	17
Mathematics	2
Political Science	1
Public Administration	4
Sociology	2
Statistics	9

The participants worked very hard during the School period. They conducted a survey of some aspects of life of Ist year T.D.C. students in the four constituent colleges. A report on this survey is being published separately.

All the participants were awarded certificates by Dr. G R. Seth, Statistical Adviser, Ministry of Agriculture, Government of India at the closing function on Nov. 10, 1966 presided by Prof. M.V. Mathur, Vice-Chancellor, University of Rajasthan.
